

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

The Appalachian Mountain club of Boston has arrived at Manchester Depot to spend a week and is following various trails around that section.

Vernon has an outbreak of scarlet fever and as a result all public Christmas exercises had to be given up, no gatherings of any kind to be held until further notice.

W. F. Smith lost one eye while placing a barrel overhead in his barn at Jeffersonville a few days ago. A pair of ice tongs was dislodged, which fell on him, catching in one eye and gouging it out.

A party of 25 St. Albans people will leave that city Jan. 2 in a special chartered car for Sarasota, Fla., where they will spend the remainder of the winter. One of the group, Mrs. C. C. Bostwick, is 88 years old. She has spent 18 consecutive winters in Sarasota.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Turner observed their sixty-third wedding anniversary at their home in Brattleboro Christmas day, four generations being present at a family party. Mr. Turner is 89 and Mrs. Turner is 77 years old. Nine children were born to them, of whom only three survive.

Harrison M. Townsend, an aged Putney man, who for two years has lived alone in a serious condition as a result of having no fire in his house. Fearing fire he has so neglected himself that when his brother, Alfred Townsend, called he found the aged man in bed with both feet frozen. He was then removed to the home of Charles Townsend for care.

The Rutland jail, which accommodates 25, is full to overflowing so that Joseph Willett, confined there while awaiting a hearing on a charge of burglary, was obliged to sleep on the floor. It is said that the young man has confessed to stealing $25 from the cash drawer of the C. E. Corey store in Hubbardston Christmas day and hiding it. Tracks in the snow led to the boy's arrest. He is 19.

Three members of a Rutland wedding party, who were in an automobile attempting to head off the bride and groom, narrowly escaped death, when the roadster with the three persons in one seat jumped a three-foot culvert, struck a tree, went through a wire fence and into another tree and stopped right side up in a pasture about 25 feet from the highway. From tracks in the snow observed after the accident there was one stretch of approximately 12 feet where the wheels did not touch the ground. After one new wheel had been substituted the car was driven to a garage. John H. Toohy, Miss Clara Toohy and Patrick E. McDonough, all of Rutland, were in the automobile, but no one was seriously hurt.

Mrs. Mary Brown Mayo, for 46 years in the service of the Burlington schools, died Wednesday at the home of her sister in Eaton, N. Y., aged 74 years. Mrs. Mayo, then Miss Brown, came to Burlington in the fall of 1876 and began her teaching in the Adams primary school, having previously taught eight years in New York state. In 1884 she was married to George C. Mayo, a brother of Admiral H. T. Mayo, but continued her teaching. She was transferred from one school to another and since the present Lawrence Barnes school was completed and opened in the fall of 1896 Mrs. Mayo had been principal of the school in that building. Her health was so poor during the summer that she could not resume her duties last September, but no one was appointed to take her place, since it was thought she would later be able to come back.

"Having to Die to Win" is one of the moulty objections to life insurance. It is neither funny nor fair. Insure to provide for your own old age, and for your family if you do not live. The Help Have Always Wanted. "Daddy, what do you do at the office all day?" "O, nothing," Daddy replied, testily. Tommy pondered that answer for a minute then launched. "But how do you know when you have finished?" "Rochester—Democrat and Chronicle."

On the Job. "How dare you kiss the maid while I'm out?" "Why, my dear! That's the only chance I have."—Life.

What is a Flapper.

Some Brooklyn college girls undertook to define the flapper and a few of their efforts are given below:

"A girl between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one who is 'flapping' between girlhood and womanhood."

"A flippant, lightly, forward minx, primarily interested in clothes, boys and brains."

"A young girl whose common sense and brains are minus, while her efforts to attract are plus; whose vocabulary revolves around the pronouns 'I' and 'he' and thinks she is really witty."—Boston Transcript.

Are You the Man Who

"Never Reads Advertisements?"

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements."

Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effects of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying, "I don't read all advertisements."
